"SUNSHINE GIRL" NEXT ATTRACTION AT THE COLUMBIA

Next Week's Theaters Offer Unusual Good Plays for Capital Public.

Patrons of the Columbia Theater will have the pleasure next Monday of witnessing the first production in America of Charles Frohman's annual musical offering, "The Sunshine Girl."

This piece, by Paul Rubens and Cecil Raleigh, was produced in February by George Edwardes, and registered one of the biggest London hits in years. Mr. Frohman, alert for an offering that would serve to introduce Julia Sanderson to the stellar honors which she has carned, secured the American rights, and the comedy is destined for a run on Broadway in the immediate future. Miss Sanderson plays the part of Dora Dale, the perfume girl, in the big soap works at Port Sunshine, which is a sort of spotless town.

She will be ably assisted by Alan Mudie, remembered from "The Arcadians," who will work opposite her as the young heir to the soap factory; Joseph Cawthorn, Eva Davenport and Tom Lewis.

Mr. Cawthorn plays Schlump, a forcabby, who has been driven out of business by the advent of the taxical, and who has a perpetual grouch in consequence. He also has a fat wife, impersonated by Eva Davenport. Another, funny character is that of the bely, the American advertising of the soap works, which is the consequence of the consequence

Chase's next week will be honored by the premiere presentation in vaudeville of the brilliant comedienne, Percy Hasrell, a daughter of the National Capwho has won stellar renown in this country and England in note-worthy presentations. With her own as-sisting company, Miss Haswell will appear in "Master Will's Players," a romantic and picturesque comedy of Elizabethan times, affording her appro-priate opportunity for brief portrayals of two of her most artistic roles, Rosa-lind in "As You Like It" and Katherine in "The Taming of the Shrew." in "The Taming of the Shrew."

Next in prominence will be Frank Fogarty, "The Dublin Minstrel." in his new parodies and stories. Third in stellar order will be the operatic tenor, Samuel Ash, in comic opera excerpts. Charles Mack and company will present "Come Back to Erin," an Irish scenic playlet with interpolated bagpipe playing and Killarney fair "breakdowns."

An extraordinary imported feature will be the Great Jungmann Troupe from the Berlin Wintergarten in their aerial feats. Al. and Fannie Stedman, in "Piano Capers," should score a greater hit than ever. The Ramsdell Trio will add their dancing novelty.

The kinemacolor pictures will show "The Husband's Story." The pipe organ recitals at 1:30, 7:30, and intermission will present new and pleasing programs.

This concerts marks probably the only appearance of this orchestra in this city and the appearance of the elder Ysaye is of additional interest on account of the recent appearance of his son, Eugene, in concert here. Marvelous tales of the success of Stokowski have made music lovers eager to see him as the conductor of the Philadelphia Orchestra.

**Years of fashion are corruptors of men; that the children's play grounds are breeding places of immorality; that the public bath house is demoralizing to children and youth, and that the moving picture show is the greatest corruptor of the morals of young girls. "Men have been mighty pure," declared Mrs. S. B. Colburn, "not to have evil thought when they look at young girls from our best homes dressed in these tight skirts, and with rouge on their faces.
